44 Section 20(a) – Regional Housing Planning Districts.

45 (1) Through an inter-municipal agreement governed by Section 4A of Chapter 40, two or more 46 municipalities may create a regional housing planning district in which the municipal members 47 are naturally linked by one or more of the following: (i) watersheds, airsheds, wetlands, wildlife 48 migration, or other common environmental interest or interests; (ii) demographic similarities 49 such as employment centers, cultural traditions, or historic events or interests; or (iii) reliance
50 on shared or common public or private infrastructure or services such as highways, mass transit, 51 water and sewer, education, and solid waste management. A regional housing planning district
52 may be a sub-district within an existing regional planning district created pursuant to Sections 1-53 8 of Chapter 40B, subject to the consent of the applicable district planning commission and all of 54 the members of the regional housing planning district.

55 (2) The governing body of a regional housing planning district, as may be determined by the 56 municipal members of the district through the inter-municipal agreement, shall adopt a regional 57 comprehensive plan that establishes urban growth boundaries that designate areas within the 58 district that are best suited for compact patterns of residential, commercial and industrial land

59 uses. The regional comprehensive plan shall inventory all land within the urban growth 60 boundaries, project future land use needs over the next 20 years, designate sufficient land 61 within the urban growth boundaries to meet those needs, and develop zoning and 62 environmental regulations for adoption by the member municipalities to effectuate the regional 63 comprehensive plan. The regional comprehensive plan, through the designation of land for 64 residential uses and the creation of development zoning bylaws and regulations to govern said
65 land, shall permit the construction, as of right, of a sufficient quantity of low or moderate 66 income housing units for each member municipality to meet the 10% housing unit minimum 67 threshold set forth in Section 20. Zoning bylaws and regulations adopted pursuant to a regional 68 comprehensive plan may provide for construction of said housing to be permitted subject to a 69 site plan review process. Regional housing planning districts shall adopt new or revised regional 70 comprehensive plans that comply with this section every fifteen years. A municipality that elects 71 not to enter into a regional housing planning district agreement may adopt its own municipal 72 comprehensive housing plan. To be eligible for the benefits of this Section 20a, a municipal 73 comprehensive housing plan shall conform to the requirements of this sub-section (2).

74 (3) In municipalities that have adopted urban growth boundary development zoning bylaws set 75 forth in regional or municipal comprehensive plans that accommodate the as of right creation of 76 a sufficient quantity of low or moderate income units to satisfy the 10% housing unit minimum 77 threshold, decisions made by the local board of appeals under Section 21 of Chapter 40B shall 78 be deemed consistent with local needs for a period of two years from the effective date of said 79 zoning bylaws, which shall be renewed for additional two year terms if during the preceding two 80 years there has been an increase in the number of low or moderate income housing units in the 81 municipality equal to at least 1% of the municipality's total number of housing units as 82 determined by the last decennial census. New housing that is added to a municipality's 83 subsidized housing inventory may include housing created within another municipality that is a 84 member of the same regional housing planning district, and which is subject to a housing credit 85 allocation agreement as provided under subsection (4) .

86 (4) Municipalities that are members of a regional housing planning district that has adopted a 87 regional comprehensive plan may, by agreement, allocate new or substantially-rehabilitated low 88 or moderate income housing created in one municipality for inclusion on another member's 89 subsidized housing inventory for purposes of Section 20, provided that: (a) the new or 90 substantially-rehabilitated housing is consistent with the regional comprehensive plan; (b) the 91 housing is not included on more than one municipality's subsidized housing inventory; (c) the 92 allocation of housing is made pursuant to housing credit allocation agreement between the 93 municipalities; and (d) no more than fifty percent of the housing included within a municipality's 94 subsidized housing inventory shall be housing allocated from another municipality.

152 median income as determined by the United States Department of Housing and Urban 153 Development. The director shall determine the amount of each award based on the reasonably-154 anticipated pre-development costs, in the director's best judgment and reasonable discretion.

171 allocated to a municipality that has not attained said threshold under a legally-binding housing 172 credit allocation agreement under section 20(a)(4) of chapter 40B.

174 requests for monies under subsection (a), priority in the disbursement of funds shall be given to 175 municipalities whose aggregate real property value, per capita, is less than the median real 176 property value per capita for the Commonwealth's 351 municipalities.
